RELENTLESS HUNT FOR HITLER INNER CIRCLE

By TOM OCHILTREE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Thousands of German prisoners were being used today in the gigantic task of re-deploying American forces and equipment now in Europe for the war against Japan.

The Germans were reconditioning equipment, crating supplies and repairing the roads over which U. S. Army material will flow back to the Atlantic ports.

Britain and Russia already are using war prisoners for reconstruction.

Other German prisoners probably will be used in farming—trying to raise enough food to win what obviously will be a close race with starvation in middle Europe next winter.

Allies troops continued their relentless hunt for the remaining members of Adolf Hitler's inner circle still at large. If it is accepted that Hitler, Nazi party deputy Martin Bormann and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels are dead, the principal arch Nazis still at large are Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and the notorious anti-Semite, Dr.
Julius Streicher.

Dr. Robert Ley, fanatical leader of the German labor front, and Lt.
Col. Otto Skorzeny, who led the German raiding party which rescued the late Benito Mussolini in September, 1943, after Italy's surrender, now are in American hands.

A counter intelligence officer said that the capture of Ley "may be even more important than the surrender of Goering because we have proved indisputably that Ley is the mastermind behind the werewolf movement."

Acting on a tip from the German underground the 101st Airborne Division took Ley into custody last night at Berchtesgaden.
The same division also picked up Fritz Saukel, Ley's manpower coordinator and gauleiter for Berchtesgaden, and Capt. Bernard Stredle, area leader for Berchtesgaden.

BULLETINS

London, May 17.—(P)—King George told parliament today that the "grand alliance of the United Nations which has brought us victory can and must continue to ensure that the peace of the world is not again outraged and destroyed."

London, May 17.—(P)—Information now in Allied hands has disclosed that the Nazi high command planned a great air and sea offensive against the U. S. Eighth Air Force bombers, but Luftwaffe chiefs lost their nerve and abandoned the project.

Chungking, May 17.—(P)—The Chinese command said tonight that its troops were forced to withdraw from the east China port of Fochow Tuesday night when the Japanese threw large numbers of reinforcements into the five-day battle.

Salzburg, Austria, May 17.—
(P)—Western Austria, which American forces occupy, has only a 12-day food supply and will face serious emergencies in the next two weeks, army officers said today.

Calcutta, May 17.—(P)—Troops of the 33rd Indian Corps moving south and east along the axis of the Promer-Rangoon railway have linked up with the 26th Indian Division at a point sixty miles north of Rangoon, a southeast Asia command communique said today.

Paris, May 17.—(P)—Press credentials have been restored to Seymour Freidin and John Groth, two of four American correspondents discredited by Supreme Headquarters public relations going through a Russian line to Berlin before the German surrender.

Roosevelt Likeness On New 10-Cent Piece

Washington, May 17.—(P)—
Franklin D. Roosevelt's likeness is going on a new 10-cent piece.
Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced today that the new dimes—which will eventually replace all dimes now in circulation
—will be minted "just as promptly as we can" and that they will be ready for distribution about the end of this year.

Morgenthau, at a news conference, also announced that President Roosevelt's picture and a suitable quotation will be placed on a War Bond to be issued later this year for the 8th War Loan.

Critical Problems of Peace Pile Up At Security Parley

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic News Editor

San Francisco, May 17.—(P)—Completion of a new peace-league charter now appears probable in about three weeks, but in the background of the United Nations conference critical big-power problems are piling up for the months ahead.

The heat is being turned on to get the job here finished. Conference committees, raking over proposed changes in the basic Dumbarton Oaks security plan, are eliminating many amendments.

Their work to date strongly indicates that the plan for an all-powerful 11-member security council and a general assembly limited to debating peace problems and advising on their solution will go through.

This was borne out late last night by the action of the conference committee studying assembly duties in voting down a whole series of small nation proposals for giving the assembly
some control over council actions.
One result of the pressure for speed may be for the other big nations to move ahead on settlement of urgent issues without waiting for full agreement with Russia whenever Moscow responds slowly to Soviet delegation requests for instructions.

That Situation, in fact, is already coming to a head over the United States proposal that the new charter should allow for regional defense systems to protect nations which the world security system may fail to protect against attack.

Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, chief Soviet delegate, wired the proposal to Moscow for instructions Saturday. Yesterday he told Secretary Stettinius and other big five colleagues he had not yet received instructions.

One report was that at the same time he had raised some question about the "self defense" idea behind the regional security arrangement, recalling that Germany claimed "self defense" when attacking Russia.

The Big Five agreed to postpone a conference subcommittee discussion of the proposal for at least a day but it was made clear that the issue would not be indefinitely delayed.

The Big-Five meeting, in Stettin's penthouse apartment, also studied the possibility of limiting the time of speeches, disposing more rapidly of proposed amendments to the basic Dumbarton Oaks plan and creating a special hurry-up committee.

TO SUPPRESS CARRIERS

Harrisburg, May 17.—(P)— Pennsylvania's new venereal disease control act was expected by the state health department to greatly stimulate the fight against the social disease in the state.
Signed into law yesterday by Governor Martin, the legislation gives the health secretary stronger quarantine powers and will permit him to ask to have suspected carriers of the disease submit to tests and treatment.

"It is indeed fortunate that Britain's necessity did not reach the point when Mr. Churchill would have acted," De Valera said, and
added:

"By resisting temptation in this instance Mr. Churchill, instead of adding another horrid chapter to the already blood-stained record of relations between England and this country, has advanced the cause of international morality—an important step and one of the most important, indeed, that can be tak-ed toward the 40-year-old original of any sure basis for peace."

FIRE IN T. B. HOSPITAL

Philadelphia, May 17.—(P)— Eighteen patients in the Rush Hospital for Tuberculosis were removed to safety today when fire destroyed the second and third floor wards of the 40-year-old original building of the hospital. Firemen battled the blaze in the old three-story building for more than an hour before it was brought under control.

ENEMY DEAD ON OKINAWA NOW 46,505

NAHA HEART PIERCED

By LEIF ERICKSON

Guam, May 17.—(P)—A total of 46,505 Japanese have been killed on Okinawa by Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr.'s Tenth army which today pierced the heart of Naha and was fighting on the blood-soaked approaches to Shuri and Yonabaru.

Naha, Shuri and Yonabaru are strongpoints of the four-mile
"Little Siegfried line" across southern Okinawa.

American casualties through Monday were 20,950: 2,771 soldiers; 1,010
marines—total 3,781.
Wounded—11,675 soldiers; 5,329
marines—total 17,004.

Missing—129 soldiers; 33 marines—total 165.
The Yanks captured 1,038 Nip-ponese.

For the 45 days of savage battling U. S. forces have lost an average of 84 men killed daily while Japanese have lost an average of 1,011 daily—a ratio of one American to 12 Japanese.

Associated Press Correspondent
Al Dopking's frontline dispatch
Wednesday indicated U. S. casualties continued heavy. In a Japanese counterattack Tuesday in the Naha sector one company of 240 marines had two men left while another had eight.

An estimated 36,000 Japanese remain on the island.

Patrols of Maj. Gen. Lemuel C.
Shepherd Jr.'s Sixth Marine Division crossed the muddy Asato estuary and entered the main part of Naha, rubble-strewn Okinawa capital on the west coast.

Across the island, a 96th Infantry Division tank platoon rolled around the left nose of recently captured Conical Hill and drove 800 yards south to within a couple hundred yards of Yona-baru, eastern anchor of the enemy defense line.

Meanwhile, elements of three divisions—the 77th and 96th army and the first marine—approached Shuri, a heavily-walled fortress.

Green Light For Autos Is Plea of Labor

Washington, May 17.—(P)—
Labor took up the plea today for swift reconversion of the auto industry as the government indicated 200,000 cars will be turned out this year.

The industry's labor advisory committee went before War Production Board executives to emphasize, as manufacturers did yesterday, that serious unemployment may develop if the go-ahead is long delayed.

De Valera Foreign Policy Defended

Dublin, May 17.—(P)—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, defending Eire's foreign policy, declared last night he did not see how Prime Minister Churchill or any other thinking person could "fail to see the reason for our neutrality."

De Valera made his statement in an address replying to a broadcast speech by Churchill last Sunday, in which the British prime minister assailed Eire for remaining neutral while Britain was under attack.

"It is indeed fortunate that Britain's necessity did not reach the point when Mr. Churchill would have acted," De Valera said, and
added:

"By resisting temptation in this instance Mr. Churchill, instead of adding another horrid chapter to

Mine Regions Will Receive Extra Meat

Washington, May 17.—(P)— Government officials promised today more meat for West Virginia and Pennsylvania coal mining areas.

West Virginia congressmen, who had expressed fear that a continuation of shortages in those areas would lead to widespread work stoppages, said OPA officials promised at a conference this morning to order immediate shipments to the regions.

Rep. Bailey (D-W.Va.) told a reporter the OPA said it would order shipment of one carload of meat each to Morgantown, Fairmont and Logan county, all in West Virginia, Pennsylvania.

The officials will contact meat packers and notify him later in the day how soon the shipments can be made, Bailey said.

The congressmen urged particularly that stocks of beef, pork and lard be sent to the soft coal mining areas in which miners complain that a meatless diet saps their strength.

Bailey said he believed the prompt emergency shipments will relieve the threat of protest work stoppages. OPA officials indicated that similar direct shipments of meat to the affected areas will be made weekly, he added.

Hedrick said employees of the West Virginia Coal and Coke Co. at the little mining town of Earling, in Logan county, already have stopped work in protest. He said 300 or more men are involved.

"From the tone of telegrams and letters I have received," Hed-rick told a reporter, "I think the miners feel that they cannot work and will not work unless they get meat."

"They seem to be very desperate and somewhat bitter."
"One man told me he had had no meat, butter, lard or sugar for 14 or 15 days and that he was losing his strength and could not possibly work under those conditions."

Storm Collapses Beatty Big Tent

Greensburg, May 17.—(P)—
Members of the Clyde Beatty Wild Animal Circus troupe proved heroically true to traditions of their colorful calling last night when they shepherded some 3,500 spectators to safety just before the "big top" collapsed in a high wind-storm.

While tent poles swayed, ropes cracked and the canvas belled dangerously, clowns and other performers kept their acts going in the arena while the rest of the circus folk—ticket sellers, ushers, cooks, drivers, candy butchers—quietly coaxed the crowd, against its will, out into a heavy downpour of rain.

As the last customer exited, the electric lights were cut off, to guard against fire. The heavy tent swooshed down to earth.

None of the patrons was hurt
but a number of the circus people couldn't get out in time.

CACHE OF RED CROSS PACKAGES RECOVERED

Berchtesgaden, Germany, May 17.—(P)—A bomb disposal squad of the U. S. 10th Armored Division reported it uncovered a cache of 100 Red Cross packages today buried in a pit adjoining a German ammunition dump near the Bavarian villages of Garmisch and Partenkirchen.

The packages, found in their original cartons, were addressed to Allied prisoners of war and had been sent by the American and Canadian Red Cross, they said.

NIP AIRCRAFT AND ARSENAL CENTER IN FLAMES RESULT OF MOUNTING INCENDIARY RADS

More Than 3,500 Tons of Fire Bombs Are Dropped By
B-29s on 16-Mile Target Area on Section
Adjoining Inner Harbor

ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE REPORTED TO BE MEAGER

By JAMES LINDSLEY

Guam, May 17.—(P)—A great fleet of more than 500 Super-fortresses kindled new conflagrations today in Nagoya, war vital Japanese aircraft and arsenal center still in flames from Monday's incendiary raid.

The B-29s struck shortly after midnight, dropping more than a million fire bombs from medium altitude by the light of the flares and fires started in Monday's 500-plane strike.

Japanese broadcasts reported that 12 hours later 40 fighters from Two Jima strafed the Fujisawa district on the southern outskirts of metropolitan Tokyo.

Today's B-29s dropped more than 3,500 tons of fire bombs on a 16-square-mile target area centered on the section adjoining Nag-oya's inner harbor and estuary docks, the only portion of the city not previously hit by incendiaries.

Heavy fires were left roaring along the waterfront, reported Lt.
George Walker, Superfort navigator from Boston, Mass.

"I don't believe there's much left of the city," third largest in Japan, added Sgt. Ray Karpowicz, radioman from Madison, Ill., who has been on 14 Nagoya raids.

Returning crewmen reported an-taircraft fire was meager and the few interceptor planes were not anxious to fight. There was no report of any B-29s lost.

A Japanese imperial commu-
que claimed nine B-29s were shot down, almost identical with its story after Monday's raid in which two Superforts were destroyed.
The enemy communique said the Atsuta shrine was bombed. As usual it made no mention of industrial damage and claimed most fires were under control by dawn.

The target area included the Mitsubishi aircraft assembly plant which has been called the world's largest.

Brilliant flares dropped by pathfinder planes offset the enemy attempt to cloak the city in darkness and bombing visibility was good.

Casualties Now Nearing Million Mark

Washington, May 17.—(P)—
American combat casualties since Pear Harbor have climbed to within 14,000 of the million mark, the army and navy reported today.

Undersecretary of War Patterson placed the army's losses at 878,939 on the basis of reports through May 7 and covering fighting to about the middle of April.
The navy added 107,275 to make the aggregate 986,214, an increase of 13,580 over last week's report.

Patterson also reported that up to May 9, army casualties in the Philippine campaign totaled 46,636 including 19,342 killed, 35,699 wounded and 597 missing. The Japanese, he said, have lost 237-256 in dead or prisoners during the campaign.

Since the Guadalcanal and the Papuan campaigns, Patterson said, records indicate that the number of Japanese actually counted killed by army forces exclusive of those on Okinawa amounts to more than 350,000.

BENEDUMS PURCHASE $1,100,000 IN BONDS

Pittsburgh, May 17.—(P)—Oil King Michael L. Benedum said of the Seventh War Loan:

"A little eagerness to get the last phase of the war over won't do us any harm. Unless we who can't fight give full cooperation in hearing the expense, how can we expect the boys to do their job?
This is the best and quickest way to bring them back."

So Mr. and Mrs. Benedum bought $1,100,000 worth of bonds.

House Members Are Offered "See the World" Inducement

Washington, May 17.—(P)—
Congress soon may rival the Navy in offering a "see the world" inducement.

House members passed the word around today that President Truman believes any law-maker who wants a trip abroad should have it.

Many already have availed themselves of the government-financed tours, and many more are overseas or getting ready to hop off in air transport command planes for foreign shores.

Groups from the house agriculture, the house naval, and the senate interstate committees already have left Washington for Europe.

Getting set to take off are de- legations from the senate and house military committees, the senate war investigating commit- tee, and a "miscellaneous" house committee slated to leave next week "just to look things over."

Two "one-man committees" of house members now are abroad:
Republican Representatives Earl
Wilson, (Ind.) and Everett Dirksen (Ill.). A third, Rep. Clare
Boothe Luce, (R-Conn.) recently returned.

A joint committee of twelve came home last week from an inspection of Nazi concentration camps.

Several groups have visited London as guests of the British government.

"YES MAN"

My name is Dorothy Baker. I'm the "Yes Man" at Personal Finance Co. . . . that is—I'm the one who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the one who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. See me at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty St., second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 285.

Local Men Discussing New 125 - Room Hotel for City

Discussion toward the erection of a new 125 room hotel in this city is now under way by a group of Warren men and during the past few weeks trips have been made to towns about the size of Warren and a check made on the hotels, their equipment, etc. It is felt that Warren deserves a real modern hotel and one that will be a credit to the city.

Visits were made to the Hotel Dimling, at Clearfield which is one of the best hotels to be found in this section and also to the hotel at Phillipsburg. The Corry Hotel which has been placed in an enviable condition by Worth Hammond, who purchased it some time ago. All of these hotels are enjoying a brisk business and are making money.

A conference has been held with an experienced hotel man and he has given it as his opinion that a good hotel in Warren, modernly equipped and with well furnished rooms would enjoy a brisk trade at the present time and that when the post war era arrives with its many travel hungry people such a hotel would be a well paying proposition.

The men interested in the proposition are of the opinion that now is the time to get the project under way so that as soon as materials can be secured construction can be started and rushed to completion so that all will be ready when the war ends.

Several sites are under consideration and the local men feel that due advantage should be taken of the scenic opportunities afforded in the locating of the structure.

Heavy Storm Swept District Last Night

Warren and vicinity was swept by one of the most severe electric storms last night about 10 o'clock that has been experienced this spring. Vivid flashes of lightning followed by thundering crashes of thunder and a deluge of rain marked the storm. It came out of the south west and rolled on northward but there have been no reports of serious damage having been done in the area over which the storm spread.

Sewers were taxed to carry away the water in the city and small streams were raised. The official rainfall was .059 inches during the past 24 hours and the river was reported at 6.01 feet and rising.

Weather sharps who have kept records on the weather for many years say that this district will experience about 31 electrical storms during the spring and summer as the yearly number of storms usually hits close to that figure.

Deep Test Well To Be Sunk To Medina Sand

The Northern Ordnance Company which several months ago entered the local oil fields in the most outstanding development in scores of years in this county is rapidly developing its field. At the present time in addition to the drilling which is under way in the development of the normal sands the company has a deep well test running. A rotary drill and heavy derrick similar to those used in the west is being operated on the Reeves property between Grand Valley and Enterprise in this county.

This deep well is now down about 5000 feet and is located a short distance from the Hunter compressor station. The Oriskany sand was reached at 4200 feet by the drillers about one month ago. No oil or gas showed in this sand and it was determined to send the drills on down to the Medina sand which lies approximately at 8300 feet on this location. It is expected that two or three more weeks of drilling will be needed to reach this sand.

The company has spent much money in the development on the leases which were purchased from various interests in Warren, Venango and Forest counties. Modern compressor stations have been installed and scores of wells have been drilled. The development has been watched by many oil men of this section with keen interest.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT
Pennsylvania State Police estimated damage at about $35 in the accident which occurred just before eleven o'clock Wednesday morning at the intersection of Routes 69 and 27, south of Sugar Grove. Cars involved were operated by Mrs. Kenneth Berlin, Sugar Grove Rd. 3, with a dented right front fender, and Mrs. Ellsworth Wright, Sugar Grove, both rear fenders dented and a punctured tire.

FEAST OF WEEKS
"The Feast of Weeks," also called "The Feast of the First Fruits" falls according to the Jewish calendar on the sixth of Sivan. It is observed this year on Friday, May 18, by Reform congregations, and also on May 19 by Conservative and Orthodox congregations. Its name is derived from the seven weeks which elapsed between the departure of the Children of Israel from Egypt and their arrival at Mt. Sinai.

CAUGHT BIG CARP
Lois Dove, 9, Joseph and Mary Bosko, 10 and 11 are credited with taking the biggest carp that has been caught in the Conewango this spring. The three children were fishing below the dam in the creek when they hooked into the big fellow. Red faced and highly excited the children gave battle and finally got the fish up on the bank after a struggle lasting some time. They put it in a basket on a bicycle and trundled it home where it was found to weigh 14 pounds and 11 ounces and measured 28 inches in length.

Extend Time to File Change Of Ownership

Landlords have been given additional time to file changes of ownership reports with the OPA Rent Office, Frank A. Anderson, Area Rent Director, of Erie and Warren Counties, announced today.

"The deadline has been extended from May 15th to May 31st, so that landlords may have sufficient time to prepare the reports properly," Anderson asserted. "A form must be filed if there was a change in the ownership of a housing unit between the original date of registration and May 15th, 1945. When a transfer of ownership occurs after May 15th, the new landlord must submit his notice to the Area Rent Office within 10 days after the change."

The Rent Director said that the report calls for brief information as to the amount of rent collected, the name of the present tenant and the date of change of ownership. If any changes in the living quarters or services were made since the housing unit was registered, these should also be shown on the form.

"Owners are reminded that the reports must be in the Area Rent Office not later than May 31st, to avoid penalties," Anderson concluded. "The forms can be obtained at the Area Rent Office."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

If beauty you have, come and we'll take it.
If beauty you have not, come and we'll make it.

Diversity of Appeal Found In New Library Book List

Released for circulation Saturday morning at the public library was a group of 20 of the newest works in fiction and non-fiction fields, their titles revealing a selection appealing to a variety of tastes.

The new list includes everything from Charles De Ziemler's history of barbering, "One Over Lightly", to suggestions for the beautifying of old furniture in Louise Sloane's book "Review Your Old Furniture".

There is Henrietta B. Sharon's "It's Good to Be Alive", which is both humbling and inspiring. She has sketched wounded men in our army and navy hospitals and given them the drawings to send home.

Russell visited Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Gruber Sunday.

Miss Joyce Stanton entertained fifteen friends Thursday evening in honor of Duane Spicer who left May 15 for Sampson to begin his boot training. Games were played and refreshments served. All wishing him luck in the Navy.

Mrs. Ray Gruber and daughter Janet of Ellington visited Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Gruber Tuesday.

also securing a group of the best artists in the United States to go with her. Here is a human interest record of the marvelous rehabilitation that is being done for our men, but also an underlying warning of civilian responsibility.

In simple, straightforward terms, Robert G. Foster, director of the family life department at the Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit, explains the psychological, emotional, physiological and social fundamentals of a successful marriage, with many case studies, in his new book, "Marriage and Family Relationships."

Pierre Auger, France's most distinguished physicist and discoverer of the Auger effect in x-rays and the Auger showers, explains some of his discoveries in a new book, "What are Cosmic Rays?"

These represent a few of the diverse interests in the new group. Other titles included are "Lusty Wind for Carolina" by Ingles Fletcher; "Journal of Mary Hervey Russell" by Storm Jameson; "Soilless Gardening" by W. F. Gericke; "How to Develop Your Executive Ability" by Daniel Starck; "Garden of Pinks" by L.

WHERE ARE THE WARREN WOMEN?

For two years the Warren War Price and Rationing Board has asked for volunteers to help hold down inflation by making price surveys and distributing posters and educational material to Warren stores.

Right now a number of surveys must be made in Warren. Yet there are no volunteer women to do it.

The board has tried in many ways to get a good group of price panel assistants, so that there would be little work for any one woman. Warren has never had more than a very few. Now there are none at all.

In desperation, letters were written to heads of Sunday school classes and serious women's clubs, thinking that in these groups surely would be women who would see the necessity for keeping prices in line, and would be willing to help.

So far, even from these, the results have been negligible. Why?

One woman said, "I haven't the time." When it was pointed out that the work takes as little (or as much) time as a person can give, the woman said no more.

Warren women seem to have time for the things they want to do—the selfish things that they enjoy doing. But we are still fighting a war—right here in Warren. The war against inflation. It isn't anything hard volunteers are asked to do. Simply see if certain stores are selling certain things at ceiling prices, and hand in reports . . . or take posters around . . . or restaurant menus.

That Warren businesses are cooperating with the OPA can be seen on every hand. On another page of this issue is a letter to OPA from one of Warren's leading food stores, from which we quote one sentence: "We do appreciate the value and importance of your task, and we want to help whenever we can."

Time was when OPA was just starting, a couple of years ago, when merchants were not always too pleasant to panel volunteers. But that time has passed. Just as there was a time when Germany was rule of all Europe. That time is also past. The war is won in Europe. The war is being won in the South Pacific. But we're trying to win the home-front war against inflation WITHOUT SOLDIERS!

Our worst inflation came NOT DURING, BUT AFTER World War I. Right now is the time OPA must work harder than ever to keep a check on prices. Without workers the surveys cannot be made.

If you want to see inflation held down—not only for yourself, but for the soldiers who will soon be coming home, phone 3635, or better, drop in at the War Price and Rationing Board headquarters, Warren National Bank building, room 407—AND ASK FOR A JOB TODAY!

CLEANING UP GERMANY BEGINS

The clutch of the Allied machine for cleaning up Germany seems to have meshed suddenly, after considerable unpleasant rasping, and we are beginning to get high-power action—a fact which will ease ragged nerves considerably.

There were several important developments yesterday, emanating from such widely-separated centers as Washington, London and Allied supreme headquarters in Germany. For one thing, in the opinion of DeWitt MacKenzie, AP foreign news analyst, we got clarification—in broad terms—of the government under which Germany will work during occupation.

In the crisp language of Major General Clay, General Eisenhower's deputy for the occupation, "the Allied government in Germany is going to be military and the Germans are going to know it's military." That is to say, there's going to be no nonsense—no coddling of the people who twice in a generation have plunged the world into war.

Simultaneously, in London Prime Minister Churchill gave an important interpretation of this position. He said that in general it was the Allied intention that "the Germans should administer their country in obedience to Allied directions," and added that the Allies have "no intention of undertaking the burden of administering Germany ourselves."

Thus General Clay and Mr. Churchill between them give us a sufficiently clear over-all picture of what will happen. The Germans themselves must assume the burden of routine administration—a heavy task in any big country—but this administrative structure will carry out its work in accordance with Allied policies and will be under rigid military control. Fair enough!

Meantime the Allies have a big job of house-cleaning to do. Clay said the initial aims of the American occupation would be to finish smashing Germany's potential to make war, to crush Nazism utterly, and to see that all war criminals are caught and punished.

Bonds Over America

THE HERMITAGE

Jackson County in Tennessee, named for Andrew Jackson, President of the United States from 1829 to 1837, points to the opportunities in the American way of life which elevated its son to the highest office in the Nation. They still exist and more men may climb to important posts if War Bonds are bought to protect that heritage. The Hermitage symbolizes that spirit. Jackson was a judge of the Superior Court when the county was named for him. Later he served in the Creek war, was commander of the battle of New Orleans in 1815 and led the expedition which captured Florida in 1817. He was United States senator from his home state before being nominated for President.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

No matter how large nor how small a circus is a circus and it makes the hearts of young and old beat feverishly. Back in the days when the circus rolled into town on long trains and elephants, camels, ponies and horses were taken out of the cars everyone got a big kick out of it. But those days are passed and the railroad show has almost faded from the picture. However we can get a peek at a real show when Cole Brothers comes to Jamestown on June 19. Jess Adkins and Zack Terrill pilot this big show and both of these men born and bred to sawdust and spangles can be depended on to provide some good entertainment. One of our favorite show folk used to be with the Cole Show Rex Deroselli who directed the spectacles with many of the big tented shows. Rex is dead and gone but he was a real trouper and had toured the world with tented shows and could frame up a fine spec with the aid of all the cookhouse folks and other hands on the show . . . Anyhow Mills Brothers Show got into town today on an array of trucks and is holding forth on the South Side and a lot of folks will be there . . .

Back in the days when the old trolley cars jiggled along there were two kinds of cars. One of them was of the closed or winter variety and the others were open. The conductor hopped along on a step swung from the side of the car and curtains of canvas pulled down when it rained. Remember how we packed 'em going out to Irvinedale to band concerts and the vaudeville shows which were arranged by the late Bill Reeger? And how the bears smelled that were a part of the zoo along with a couple of owls, etc. All in all it was an amusement center and the boys who were near broke just hiked over the hill from the head of Jackson street to get in the fun . . . "Buff" Munn will be missed Saturday evenings directing traffic at the busy spots . . . Wonder how many of the High School kids would get up to attend a sunrise picnic atop Tanner Hill? Supt. of Schools W. L. Mac-toun today on an array of trucks

Black Market Versus Brighter Meals

I guess our town doesn't like rationing any better than other folks. But when a fellow went from door to door the other day, peddling butter, cheese, and bacon without points, he didn't find a single taker.

Ed Carey's missus, Sarah, summed it up. "I'd just be ashamed to have that butter on my table," Sarah says. "I'd a heap rather have my family and guests put up with what I can serve honestly, than give 'em a treat from the Black Market."

These days, most people are agreed that a simple menu of unrationed foods and substitutes is a badge of honor . . . no apologies required!

And from where I sit, housewives can brighten limited meals with cheerful table decorations, sparkling cider or tangy ice-cold beer, or side dishes of home-made preserves and fruits and nuts. Those little touches can be mighty helpful to the appetite.

Moose To Dedicate Class To Secretary Walter Kiser

Gust Sandstrom

Sec. Walter Kiser

Sunday, May 20 Warren Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose will conduct a special meeting at which time a class of candidates will be initiated. The Warren Lodge with a membership of over 1200 members has been conducting a campaign for new members and the class is expected to number close to 150 men of the vicinity. Gust Sandstrom has been conducting the campaign and has had the close co-operation of the lodge membership.

The drive for members is being conducted under the "Build For Tomorrow" plan provided by the Supreme Officers. Realizing the need of a larger membership of the order, which is now one of the largest fraternal organizations in the nation, in order to care for the orphans of men in the service of the U. S. every lodge in the country is at work. Plans of the Supreme Lodge call for the building of several new cottages at Mooseheart, Ind., where the greatest home in the world is located. With thousands of Moose in the service it is felt the demands on the Mooseheart Home will be great.

The class to be initiated Sunday will be dedicated to Walter Kiser, Secretary of the Warren Lodge. He has been a tireless worker for the organization and is one of the most widely honored members of the order in Pennsylvania. The Walter Kiser Class promises to be a noteworthy body of men.

There will be many dignitaries of the order from this state in attendance, among them Jack Stoehr, Regional Director of the Moose in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Mr. Stoehr will address the gathering. District Supreme Deputy Frank Pierotti, of Kane will also be present and it is hoped that Leo Ryan, of Bradford will also be in attendance.

Following the initiation ceremonies lunch will be served, an orchestra will be on hand for dancing and there will be other entertainment which promises to make the affair an outstanding one in every way.

Stamp News

STAMP collectors and others already have made the new United Nations Conference commemorative a sales record breaker for United States special issues. But a word of caution is due those who are buying the stamp as an investment—the order for the conference stamp calls for 70,000,000 copies, a total that should meet all demands for some time to come. Originally, the Post Office Department planned to issue only 25,000,000 copies, but the order was increased in view of the heavy first- and second-day sales.

In the first-day sale at San Francisco on the opening day of the conference, preliminary reports show, at least 1,300,000 were sold—greater than any other first-day sale of a five-cent stamp.

Even more impressive are the figures for the second-day sale at the Philatelic Agency in Washington. There, orders for 3,000,000 stamps—ten times more than any previous second-day sale at the agency—were filled. Sales continue heavy.

EGYPT has contributed two new commemorative stamps since the first of the year. First came a handsome 10-millime violet stamp to commemorate the 25th birthday of Feb. 11 of Farouk I. ruler of Egypt. Farouk succeeded his father, Fuad, in 1936. On March 2, the 50th anniversary of the death of Khedive Ismail Pasha was marked by a 10-m deep olive stamp similar in design except for the inscription that the two high values of Egypt's 1934 Postal Union Congress issue (Scott's 189-90). Ismail (1830-95) became ruler of Egypt in 1863 and instituted numerous reforms. It was during his rule that the first Egyptian postage stamps were issued. He was deposed in 1879.

Three other Egyptian commemoratives were scheduled for release in April—of 10-, 15- and 20-m values—to mark the millenary of the religious institution of El Hajar.

SENATOR McKELLAR (D-Tenn.), president pro tem of the Senate and Chairman of the Senate Post Offices and Post Roads Committee, has added his endorsement of the two Jima flag raising and Remagen Bridge stamps which are expected to be announced by the Post Office department soon.

In a letter to Postmaster General Walker, Sen. McKellar said his attention had been called to the proposed stamps by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), who first suggested them, and said:

"... Naturally it occurred to me that the issuance of these proposed stamps honoring the armed forces will also serve the purpose of increasing the income of the Post Office Department. You know I am very proud of the splendid income that you have brought into the government exchequer during the last two years."

RUSSIA has issued four imperforated 3-ruble stamps, apparently as a souvenir sheet, "devoted to the rout of German Fascist troops near Stalingrad," according to word reaching J. and H. Stolow of New York. The stamps are bi-colored and the slogan "Immortal Glory of Stalingrad" appears on the sheet. A 60-kopek stamp picturing a Red Army badge also has been issued.

Gardening Calms War Anxieties

"For the person who is on edge, anxious and sleepless, and has a heavy heart, there is no more inspiring, restful, healthful recreation than gardening."

This high appraisal of a phase of the Victory garden campaign which is seldom considered, comes from Frederick P. Moersch, M. D., a neurologist of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

In an article on "Health and Contentment in Gardening," published in the Minnesota Horticulturist, Dr. Moersch continues: "One might speak properly of gardening as a 'work' cure. Physical health and mental health go hand in hand, and with our physical programme of gardening we should be in a better position to maintain or gain mental health."

"Of all hobbies, gardening is one of the simplest, most satisfying and salutary. Nature has a way of beckoning us, but its simplicity may fail to impress us in our busy and superficial search for happiness. The very simplicity of gardening is one of its chief assets."

"Gardening, like any constructive hobby, tends to grow and new interests are added rapidly. As the gardener's interests take root the leisure moments of the day and troubled hours of the night are turned to constructive thinking. Health thoughts gradually replace melancholy thoughts. The evil spirits of anxiety, worry, and fear find it more and more difficult to intrude themselves upon us. In place of wakeful nights worrying about things we cannot help, it becomes possible to plan the work for the morrow joyfully and fall asleep dreaming of roses rather than stubborn sheep."

Gardening as a therapeutic occupation is being extensively used at service hospitals in this country and abroad.

Recognition For Five Members Of The Seneca PTA

Five members of Seneca P. T. A., Mrs. Clara Gray, Mrs. John Dickinson, Mrs. Robert Endress, Mrs. Albert Swartz and Mrs. Frank Smith, were given special recognition at the final meeting Wednesday evening as members of long standing.

Also during the business session, Kathryn Koebley was reelected president for the coming year, with these other officers: Mrs. A. Morse, vice president; Mrs. D. Hogan, treasurer; Mrs. E. Kahle, secretary.

There was a good turnout to enjoy the tureen supper and the evening which followed. It was voted to hold an ice cream social on June 5 and to provide a treat for the children on the last day of school. Mrs. Anna Larson reported on the fine record made by the Seneca building in the war stamps and bond sales during the school term. Progress was also reported on the formation of a cub pack.

Following the business meeting, games were enjoyed with "white elephants" brought by members used as prizes, and the evening was concluded with a lively game of "musical chairs", won by Mrs. E. Sharp.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, May 14—Regular services were held at Moriah Lutheran on Sunday morning with the sermon topic being "Christians in a Hostile World", delivered by Rev. Hans Pearson. A tribute was paid to mothers with a vocal solo, "Mother's Task", sung by Miss Elizabeth Hess, soprano. The pastor spoke of the "Pioneer Mother of Christianity." A special memorial prayer was given in thanksgiving for V-E Day and prayer for a quick victory in the Pacific, with special tribute paid to those who have given their lives for this great cause. "Taps" was played by Robert Johnson and James Nelson. A Lutheran World Action collection was taken. Flowers on the altar were given by Mrs. Gust Carlson and Mrs. Arthur Christenson.

V-E Day community services were held at eight-thirty o'clock on Tuesday night at the Lutheran church with Rev. Hans Pearson officiating. The church auditorium was filled to capacity.

Rev. Wilbert Nyline of Kane conducted the regular vesper services in the Covenant Mission church on Sunday afternoon. V-E Memorial Day was observed with memorial prayer.

The Martha Society of the Lutheran church was held on Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors with Mrs. Charles Lantz and Mrs. A. L. Larson as hostesses. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. J. Carlson, president, and Scripture reading and prayer were given by Rev. Hans Pearson.

During the business meeting, it was decided to give five dollars to the Denver Tubercular Sanatorium. It also was decided to concentrate on the Post War Emergency Fund for post war opportunities. Cards were passed to members for special pledges or contributions. The following program was given: A report was made of the district meeting held in Sheffield on April 22nd by Mrs. C. J. Carlson, Reading, Mrs. Axel K. Anderson, vocal duet, Mrs. Emil Nelson and Mrs. Wm. Hanson; reading, Mrs. C. O. Johnson; benediction, Rev. Pearson.

Announcement was made of the prospective visit of Dr. Viola Fischer, Lutheran Medical Missionary on furlough from China, which will occur on May 22nd. This will be extremely interesting and is an evening lecture to which everyone is invited. The meeting closed with a hymn and the benediction. There was a splendid attendance. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the program.

Mrs. L. B. Connelly was hostess to the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary which appropriately fell on V-E Day. The members attended the Community Service prior to the meeting, and the evening carried out the memorial program. Business was cancelled. Mrs. Connelly served refreshments in the late evening.

Weekend at Camp Birdsall Edey Will Be Real Opportunity For Scout Adults

As announced briefly in Wednesday's edition, it has been necessary to close registrations to Girl Scout leaders outside Warren county for the weekend training period of Camp Birdsall Edey beginning Friday, the action being in compliance with OLT regulations.

The training session affords an opportunity for Girl Scout leaders of northwestern Pennsylvania to enjoy some of the privileges that are afforded those who live near the national training school at Camp Edith Macy, Pleasantville, N. Y.

Mrs. Chester Marsh and Miss Elizabeth Egnor, members of the Girl Scout national staff, will be present to give instruction and to lead discussion groups. Mrs. Marsh heads the arts and crafts program of the national organization, and will come from New York for the weekend. Miss Egnor is assigned to Region Three, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. H. G. Stohl of Warren, chairman of Area One, Region Three, will be camp chief. Mrs. C. Vance Weld, commissioner of Warren county Girl Scouts is her assistant, with Mrs. A. J. Weiler, Mrs. Robert Carlson, and Mrs. W. Wade Ransom of Youngsville as unit leaders.

Miss Mary Wagner, executive secretary of Girl Scouts of Erie county will lead discussions on the Intermediate Girl Scout Program. Miss Guinevere Knapp, of Warren, will have charge of activities in the field of nature. Miss Knapp is outstanding in this area as an instructor in nature study. Mrs. Gordon Kay, of Youngsville, will teach modeling.

Program aides will be Louisa Urey of Oil City; Ruth Ann David, Rachel Smith and Nan Schwartz of Warren. Mrs. Dora Lewis of Asheville, N. Y., is the nurse.

The program for the training session was planned by the training committee of the local Girl Scout Council with Miss Gignier as advisor. Accent on instruction in arts and crafts was suggested by leaders who attended the week end in 1944 and the services of Mrs. Marsh were requested in May of last year.

Even the fun which the leaders will enjoy will be part of their training because it is all designed to be taken home and used in their Girl Scout troops. Square dancing, songs, and outdoor cooking come under this heading while the more serious activities include block printing, stenciling, sketching, watercolor painting, modeling and shadowgraphs.

Miss Harriett Stiles, of Youngstown, Ohio, has returned home after visiting her aunt, Mrs. William H. Hegerty, Hickory street.

CLUB ASKS FOR MORE COOPERATION

The Home Front News committee of the Warren Kiwanis Club is making another appeal to families of service men and women to report recent changes of address to the Service Editor of this paper, so that the monthly news sheet prepared by the club may reach more of those persons for whom it is intended. While the club desires to send the Home Front News to every service man and woman of this county, much needless expense is being incurred through returns because proper addresses have not been handed to the committee. Now, with many coming home from Europe, some to be discharged or transferred and others being sent to the Pacific, it is more than ever important to report every known change of address as soon as it is received.

STARBRICK LADY BOWLERS PARTY

The starbrick Ladies' Bowling team entertained their husbands with a seven o'clock dinner at Pittsfield Inn Tuesday evening. Each woman was presented with a corsage of sweet peas and rosebuds and, after a delicious chicken dinner, cash awards were made as follows:

High single game, Mrs. Harriet Nichols; high three game total, Mrs. Harriet Nichols; high average, Mrs. Bessie Huckabone. This enjoyable evening concluded the season for the group and it is hoped that all will turn out again next season.

ANNUAL MEETING OF COLLEGE CLUB

College Club members will hold their annual meeting Friday evening following 6:30 dinner at the Woman's Club. "Music and Magic" is the program theme for the evening and a large attendance is anticipated. Serving as chairman will be Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart, with Mrs. R. W. Steber heading the following hostesses: Miss Hildegard Edwards, Miss Julia Heibel, Mrs. F. L. Iseman, Jr., Miss Lois Mainwaring and Mrs. G. H. Reier.

STONE CLASS DINNER-MEETING

The May R. Stone Class of the First Presbyterian church will have a tureen dinner in the church dining room Monday, May 21, at 6:30 p. m. The committee, of which Bess W. Stone is chairman, will furnish the dessert, coffee, cream and sugar, rolls and butter, members to bring their own tureens and table service.

MISSIONARY EVENT

The Salem Evangelical Missionary Society will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors at eight o'clock this evening. Mrs. Erma Atkins will serve refreshments and Mrs. John Naegeli will conduct the devotional period. All members and friends are cordially invited.

"AN UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE" is the term applied to Jean Robertson's recent Faribault, Minn., recital by the Rev. David I. Horning, curate and canon precentor of the Cathedral of Our Merciful Saviour. Writing for the Daily News, he says:

Seldom do we of the middle-west have the opportunity to hear such artistry. Two great factors contributed to Miss Robertson's undeniable success. The first, that of program planning, indicates a fine sense of musical balance and perception. Not only was this evidenced by the choice of composers, but by the complete absence of hackneyed "warhorses" which too often constitute a pianist's "stock in trade."

The second was the consummate artistry of Miss Robertson. Superlatives are in order. Opening her program with a well-chosen group from the classicists, she skillfully led us through the early and late romanticists, closing with a representative group of contemporary composers.

One is hard pressed to select high spots, for the level of the performance was so consistently high. It is a natural thing that the artist might excel in the interpretation of a particular school. Such is not the case with Miss Robertson. After each group one felt that this must inevitably be her field. With each succeeding group being interpreted with equal facility of technical skill and intelligent handling, there is but one conclusion—Miss Robertson is master of them all.

It is gratifying to know that there is an American artist who is carrying on the best of musical tradition. For sheer beauty and subtlety of tone, for effortless surmounting of technical problems, we have Jean Robertson.

May we hope for a return engagement in the not too far distant future.

Will Be Graduated

Marguerite Mader, left, and Ruth Simonsen, right, are Warren students who will be members of the two-year secretarial group to receive certificates at the annual commencement exercises at Thiel College next Monday, May 21.

Miss Mader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mader, 610 Pennsylvania avenue, east, has been an active member of the Sigma Theta Phi sorority, Lutheran Students Association, Pan-Hellenic Council and YWCA.

Miss Simonsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Simonsen, 10 Russell street, was elected Homecoming Queen last fall, has been active in the same sorority, the YWCA and the Women's Athletic Association.

Bonds and Stamps May Be Awarded For Sales Efforts

Local and county employees in whose stores or industries War Bonds are regularly sold will be interested to learn that a recent ruling by the War Labor Board and Department of Internal Revenue now permits the awarding of prizes in War Bonds and Stamps to their employees for their efforts in selling Bonds.

The new ruling allows the awarding of prizes to any employee provided that he is not an officer or company official and excluding also those whose principal activity is concerned with the sale of bonds. The limit of the prize which can be awarded without seeking permission from the War Labor Board or the Salary Stabilization Unit is $500 (issue price of the bond).

Prior to this time, the issuing of a bond or stamps as a reward for efforts in bond sales has been treated as a wage or salary increase and for that reason discouraged. The ruling still prohibits its excessive awards within the industry and advises that the plans must be so formulated that general wage or salary increases would not result, this being a stop-gap against any inflationary action.

The joint statement of the National War Labor Board and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue follows: "Employers may, without the

WHAT IT MEANS

By SIGRID ARNE

IN 1934 the United States was selling fewer autos, typewriters and apples to foreign countries. It was buying less cheese, lace, coffee, tungsten and furs from them.

It wasn't entirely the depression. It was partly "trade barriers." Mexico limited the amount of American movies her theaters could buy. Germany said the Reichsmarks she paid any nation had to be spent right there in Germany, whether or not she had anything worth selling. The United States charged such high tariffs on some foreign goods that Americans couldn't afford to buy many of them, for sellers had to add tariffs to the prices.

Because of those lost sales men lost their jobs. That year, 1934, the United States announced a "reciprocal trade agreements" program, authorized by Secretary of State Hull.

We said to each nation: You cut down your trade barriers and we'll cut ours.

We signed the first such agreement with Cuba in August, 1934. Now we have signed them with 27 more nations. No nation has withdrawn.

BUT the program has had continuous minority opposition in Congress. So it has had to operate like a dog on a leash. Congress approved it first for 1 year—then twice more, in 1937 and 1940, for three years, and in 1943 for only two years.

Now the program is up for another three-year lease that would take it up to June 12, 1948.

The crux of the Congress fight is the old argument between "free traders" and "protectionists."

Free traders argue that Mrs. A. should be able to buy new china from either East Liverpool, O., or Czechoslovakia. Then, they say, have trade rules that will let in American typewriters on an even basis with, say, Swiss typewriters.

Protectionists say that if you admit Czech china, East Liverpool may lose sales.

Commerce department figures show that our 1930-40 sales to countries with which we had agreements were twice our sales to "non-agreement" nations.

State department experts explain, carefully, that the world had begun to buy more anyway, but the figures show the trade-agreement nations did more buying.

THE fight on the program, supporters of which include the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the AFL and the CIO and two of the largest farm organizations, promises to be a bitter one. Opponents say:

1. The Trade Agreements Act gives authority for making the agreements to the President. The Senate wants that power as part of its right to sign treaties.

2. Sale of foreign goods here means lost sales to American producers.

3. Tariff reductions are made without "proper hearings."

4. The current act requests the right to reduce tariffs 50 per cent under current tariffs, which have already been reduced by the ten years of the program.

In reply, government trade experts say:

1. It would be almost impossible to get trade agreements if the Senate wrote them. That was tried under an 1897 tariff bill. Twelve treaties were negotiated then, but not one got by the Senate.

2. Experts can cite no proof that foreign goods cause actual financial loss to American producers. On the other hand, Tariff Commission statistics show that American incomes always rise in periods when we buy and sell much abroad.

3. Most of these agreements are so detailed that they take more than a year to write. They're announced first. Then any American producer can be heard in opposition by expert trade committees drawn from the Tariff Commission and the Treasury, Commerce, Agriculture and State departments. These experts decide on whatever course seems to promise a general rise in income for the United States.

Girl Reserve Club Glimpses

The Girl Reserve Department of the YWCA is in the process of bidding farewell to the club members. Ring committee of the 1944-45 season is a thing of the past since the annual slumber party and High School Girls' Club is following on its heels. Officially disbanded until September at school again, this oldest club as its members to continue to be a helping hand in the work yet to be done on the "new room". The cabinet is including the finish product in plans for the first meeting.

Next on the list to go the way all good clubs for the summer the North Warren Girl Reserve Members have been invited to join the boys' club for a party at its last meeting this season.

Sophomore Girls' Club has planned a party on May 24. Be a Girl Reserve will have two meetings to spend on arts and crafts.

As thanks to the supervisors its style show, the Freshman Club is planning a party for the regular meeting next Wednesday, May 2. One more meeting will follow as this group will disband like the others. The first of June will see vacation for the Girl Reserve department.

WHERE DID YOU GET THESE LOVELY NEW LINENS?

THEY'RE NOT NEW. I MADE THEM SNOW-WHITE, SANITARY, TOO, WITH CLOROX!

IT'S mighty flattering when old linens are mistaken for new. And millions of housewives have learned the secret of making white cottons and linens showy-white, of brightening fast colors. They use Clorox in laundering. It's just that simple. Clorox bleaches extra-gently, lessens rubbing, lets linens last longer. Clorox also disinfects, deodorizes and removes stains.

Housewares Buyer Is Man Of Experience

One of the best known china-ware buyers in the country, is L. C. LeVan, housewares buyer for the past twenty-six years at Metzger-Wright Company. Forty-nine years ago when the Metzger-Wright Company was founded, Mr. Metzger bought for all the departments including the china-ware and at that time there were no electric appliances as there are today. Even when Mr. LeVan came to the Metzger-Wright Company, many of the appliances of today, were not even thought of. Mr. LeVan has seen the development of these as well as many changes that have been made in china and glassware.

Coming to Metzger-Wright's from the Clark Hardware in Jamestown, he brought with him his years of experience with various hardware stores throughout the country including the Pickett Hardware Company in Warren where in 1905 he was assistant manager under Henry Stillwell. Mr. LeVan was one of the first honor club members, having been made member in 1932.

vegetables and fruits are available, we cannot afford to throw away a single tin can," he said. "The need for tin by our military forces is greater today than at any time since the beginning of the war for the reason that the nation's stockpile of tin has nearly reached the vanishing point, and we are not able to import nearly enough to meet current military needs.

"With the redeployment of our troops from Europe to the Pacific greater amounts of tin are needed to supply canned rations, syringes, blood plasma containers, ammunition boxes, sea markers, blanket containers and many other things to our fighting men.

"Pennsylvania's tin can collections for the most part have failed to keep pace with its other salvage activities, and today tin looms are the most precious of all metals for war production purposes.

"For a time, there was some difficulty in obtaining can openers and this was offered as an excuse by some for not opening both ends of the used cans and flattening them for war salvage. At the present time, however, there is a large supply of can openers in the hardware and variety stores.

"We ask the housewives to prepare and save their cans, and we guarantee that they will be collected and sent to war."

THE STATE POLICE SAY:

If, at any time, you should have an accident with a parked car, no matter how little damage is done, it is the duty of the operator to stop, and then and there locate the custodian of the parked vehicle and if unable to locate him, leave a note listing his own name, address and registration number in a conspicuous place in the car and forward an official accident report to the Bureau of Highway Safety, Harrisburg, Penna., within 24 hours.

Chapter 33
"SORRY, Mr. Humbert," the voice of his secretary brought him back to the business in hand a few minutes later. "But Mr. Hanson will not be down today. He's sick. As there's anyone else in the section you'd like in to take his place?"
"No, never mind." He waved aside her suggestion. At that moment Irene, the cashier came in, followed by a headquarter's man and Willie from the Club Boulevard.
"Oh, Mr. Humbert," Irene exclaimed in high-pitched excitement. "I just identified Willie for the police." She pointed to the slouching, oily-haired young man handcuffed to a policeman. The officer nodded in corroboration.
"That she did, sir. The girl got him cold. He's the elevator stick up. She said it was his slick black hair she remembered best. Willie did the job for Rizzo."
So it was Rizzo after all. Christopher drew a deep breath of relief. He felt better. This might not be so bad if Donohue knew how to tie it all together. He'd be a lot less worried if Donohue was here so he could watch what he was doing—the fellow was unpredictable—
Then the office was suddenly full of people. Policemen and detectives stood around talking to each other in low voices. Twenty minutes to twelve, Brenda came in. For an instant she hesitated in the doorway. She was wearing black and the great window behind her at the end of the section silhouetted the long, slender lines of her figure against the daylight that flooded the floor outside of Christopher's office. Her cheeks were flushed the faintest pink and her grey eyes were shadowed with anxiety and fatigue.
Christopher sprang to his feet but before he could reach her, a man from headquarters touched her arm and led her to a chair near Christopher's desk.
Then this officer whom Christopher had never seen before raised his voice and said so that everyone in the office could hear him:
"Now that Mrs. Blair is here I can give you a brief review of this case while we are waiting for Lieutenant Donohue. He has been detained but he is on his way over here now."
Christopher felt his breath quickening. He was watching Brenda and when she looked over at him, he smiled at her mechanically as if he thought he should, but his nervousness definitely increased as the man began to speak.
He saw the light glinting on the gold in her hair and he loved the way she held her head—high—ready to face defiance—not showing she was afraid. Instinctively he knew she had the kind of courage that could take whatever the next few minutes would bring to her.
SLOWLY, quite deliberately, the man from headquarters began a brief summary of the case.
"Pete Rizzo planned both the robberies in this store. We have not yet located the fence where he disposed of the mink shipment, but we hope to round that up later in the day. The money Willie stole from the cashier has already been returned to the store. He executed the robberies Rizzo planned."
"After the stickup Monday evening, Rizzo decided the money was too hot for him to keep. He made arrangements with Tom Blair to hide it for him until he could get out of town with it. Willie used the money on the beach right after the robbery and he took the money wrapped in old newspapers, back to his apartment with him."
"Then the money disappeared. Blair was frantic. He had no idea where it was. He suspected Rizzo and Willie, believing that they had double-crossed him. Later Rizzo thought Blair was double-crossing him when he learned that Blair could not—or would not—deliver the money to him."
"Someone in Blair's apartment, not knowing what was in the bundle threw the money wrapped in old newspapers into a clothes hamper and piled dirty laundry on top of it. It turned out to be a perfect hiding place. But the disappearance of the money had disastrous consequences."
"Rizzo is a tough guy to deal with and Blair knew when the money disappeared that he was caught on a heart attack after dinner. To make matters worse, Francine Norman was sent over by Rizzo to tell Blair the money had to be ready for him—all of it—by nine that night. They quarreled—Blair and the girl... Blair had a heart attack and managed to get the girl out of his apartment just before Rizzo arrived. The rest of the story is all bad news."
"When Rizzo arrived in the apartment, Blair told him he did not know where the money was. Rizzo got fighting mad—and slugged Blair, who tried to fight back. This was the worst thing he could have done. He became violently ill. Rizzo said his medicine was on the table. Blair asked Rizzo to give him a dose."
"Rizzo admits this. He says he doubled the dose. That Blair told him to put in the glass. He thought if he could get him unconscious, he would have time to search the apartment and get the money. He was sure Blair was holding out on him. But Blair by this time was a very sick man. The overdose killed him within 15 minutes."
"When Rizzo arrived in the club, he's a racketeer—of sorts—'Yeah, you said it.' Donohue cut in sharply: 'Just a small, two-timing bun, picking up a little change. Then Francine Norman came along and tried to make a big shot out of him. He takes on Willie to do the honors and then he sits back of the bar at night and gives orders like some of the boys he sees coming into the club. He and Willie pull the first job and think they get away with it—so right away he tries again for cash this time—'and falls flat on his face 'cause both times he lies up with a murder rap—just got too big for his pants—'
"Gawd! What wouldn't I give for a chance to bust that big mug of yours." Rizzo snapped back at him. "If it hadn't been for Mr. Humbert you'd never got me—and you know it—all I needed was 24 hours more—the broke the case and you'd take the credit for it."
Donohue shook his head irritably. "The only thing I'll say for this guy is he sure pulled a fast one on his make-up." The lieutenant turned to Christopher, patiently ignoring Rizzo's last remark. "It was so simple it fooled even me for a couple of days."
"We knew where Rizzo was and we were keeping an eye on Hanson here at the store—routine. Then after the stick-up, Rizzo never appeared at the club at night—sent Willie when anyone wanted to see him. That was O.K. but this business of his was something he'd thought up long ago. Never once while he's been hanging around the club has anyone there ever seen him with his hat off. His bald head was too conspicuous and he knew it. So he just went around after he left this store at night wearing that old soft hat pulled way down over his eyes. Willie made the contacts for him and pulled the jobs on the outside... We were watching Hanson, of course..."
"Not so you could notice it—" Christopher muttered under his breath.

Grange Holds Tribute For Its Deceased

During the regular meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025, held Wednesday evening in the IOOF hall, the annual memorial tribute was paid to members who have died within the past year.
As the roll was called, Vera Taft and Henry Hoffman conducted the candle and flower ceremonial honoring Mrs. Richard Olson, Louis Wenzel, C. W. Kiernan, Mrs. Mary Porter, George Schirok, Mrs. Cora Weiler, Mrs. Theodore Johnson and Mrs. Fred Steber.
The memorial program included two selections by the First Evangelical Quartet, Beryl Rhoades, Geraldine Mathis, Lorraine Harless and Frances Peterson, with all the Grangers uniting in a hymn, "In the Garden." A reading given was "A Prayer" by Rev. Fred Harris, chaplain of the United States Senate.
Rose Lauffenburger gave a reading, a tribute to the late President Roosevelt as a Grange member, explaining he had been a member of 30 years standing and was listed as a Silver Star member. She reminded that he had never failed to send a greeting to the National Grange convention and in one of these expressed the following sentiments: "For many years I have been a member of the Grange. I have been at home in it because it embodies the fine flavor of rural living which I, myself, have known and loved. Beyond this, it has been an instrument for expressing in useful activity the highest sentiments and loyalties of Americans."
Routine business occupied the remainder of the business session, with the committee serving a nice lunch at the close of the evening and a number participating in the shuffleboard games.

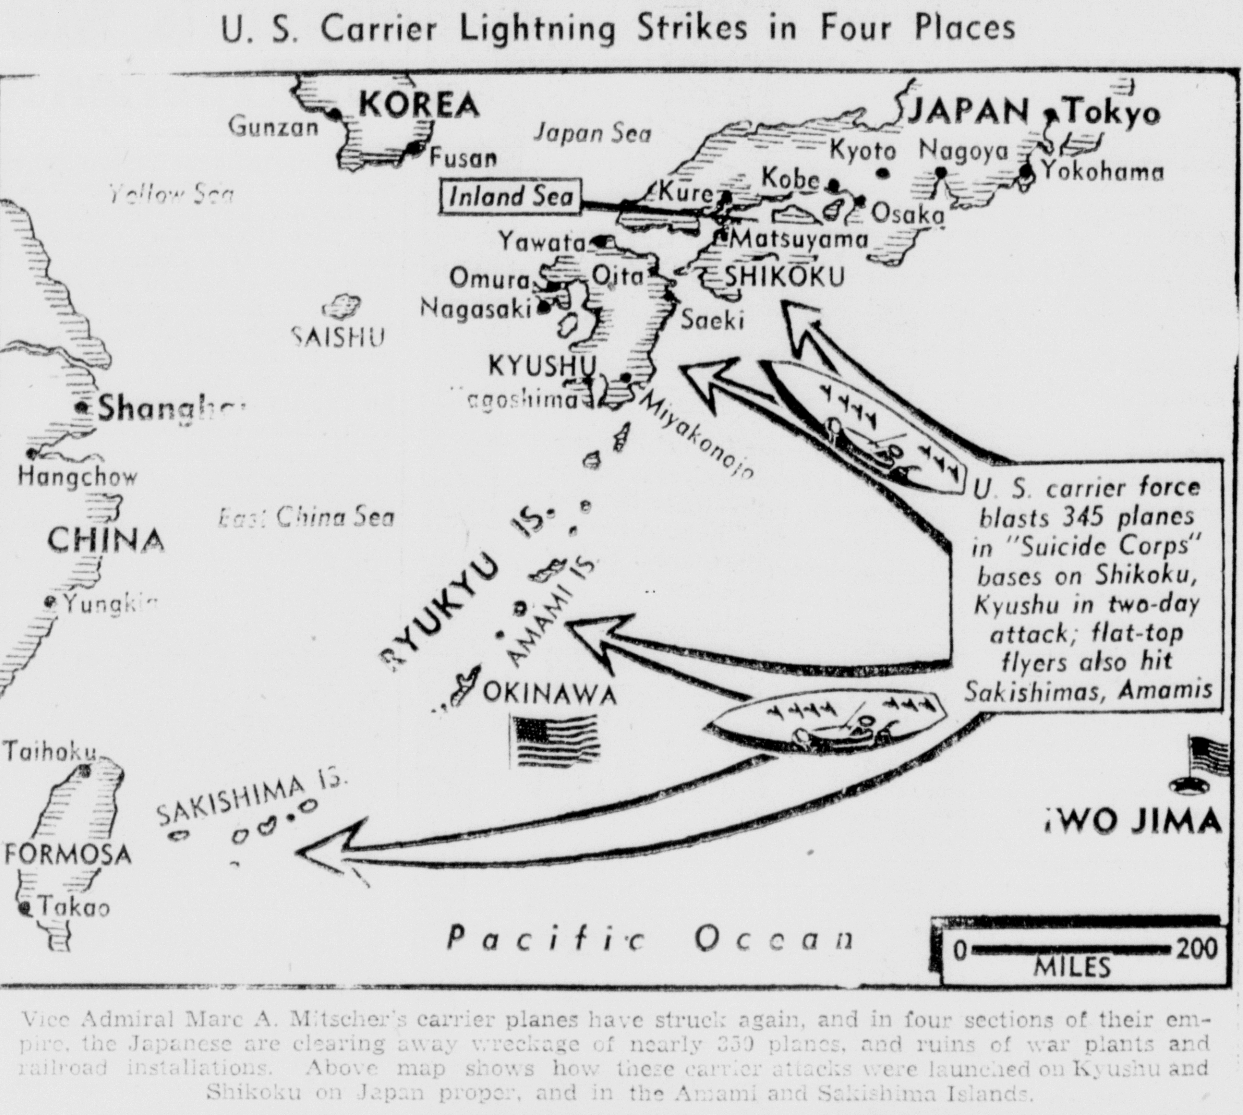

Kimani's Club Enjoys Films

Kiwanis Club members were treated to two very fine motion picture films at their luncheon session at the Hotel Carver on Wednesday, one dealing with the great strides to be expected in communications after the war and the second an action film in the Pacific theatre.
"R. H. Junk, of Pittsburgh, representative of the Bell Telephone Company and frequent visitor to Kiwanis, showed the films. The one on communications, titled "Coaxial", was based on the new type cables perfected for the post-war era and permitting simultaneous transmission of more than 400 telephone conversations, six or eight hundred telegraph messages and television over the same set of wires.
A report from J. A. Blomquist showed progress on the clothing collection drive, members still busy with the task of sorting, packing and shipping.

IN PHILIPPINES
It is learned that Coast Guard Lieutenant John I. Moore, whose wife and son live at 110 Market street, is serving aboard a Coast Guard-manned enemy freight supply ship in the Philippines and is now entitled to wear the Philippine liberation ribbon with a bronze star. Lt. (jg) Moore is a graduate of Rayen High School and of Westminster College, with an AB degree, and was a member of Sigma Pi Epsilon. He was manager of a dry-cleaning business prior to entering the service and plans to return to the business at the war's end.

U. S. Carrier Lightning Strikes in Four Places

Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's carrier planes have struck again, and in four sections of their empire, the Japanese are clearing away wreckage of nearly 350 planes, and ruins of war plants and railroad installations. Above map shows how these carrier attacks were launched on Kyushu and Shikoku on Japan proper, and in the Amami and Sakishima Islands.

Men and Women In the Service

This evening the Captain of this newly baptized cruiser spoke from his station on the bridge to the men at their battle stations. The planes of returning U. S. airmen speckled the sky as they maneuvered for landings. The Captain's words were proud: "Objective realized... losses of task-force aircraft light... damage to the enemy severe. For this ship, two Jap planes, one probable. For you of the crew, well done, shipmates!"
"The Jap is now aware that a new ship has joined Uncle Sam's first team."

Sorenson On New Cruiser In the Pacific

A delayed dispatch written March 18 aboard a new U. S. cruiser somewhere in the Pacific and just received by the Times-Mirror, reports that Kenneth A. Sorenson, 19, radioman third class, of Warren RD 1, helped take this new ship into battle against the Japanese for the first time on that date.
Her guns sent two Japanese bombers crashing into the sea not far from Japan, and the carriers she defended so well were free to launch their planes. Quoting from the dispatch:
"Today, shortly after dawn, when the first Jap 'Betty' stole through a curtain of ack-ack and let loose its bombs, the men knew there was a difference from the 'business as usual' of yesterday. The next plane did not get through. It dissolved in the focal area of a barrage from the ships of the Japanese homeland in recent weeks as the U. S. Navy carried the war into Japan's front yard."
As a prelude to the Okinawa operation, this ship and her crew spent four days close by the Jap mainland as a part of a task force which sent wave after wave of carrier-based planes against Kyushu and Honshu Islands.

Major From Tidououte Is In Busy Spot

Assigned to provide anti-aircraft protection for the Navy's fast and hard-hitting flattops, this cruiser was in the middle of the action during the entire engagement. Her first kill of this operation came in the afternoon of the first day, when she teamed up with a destroyer to shoot down a Jap bomber and capture its pilot alive when he parachuted into the water. Earlier that day, one of the most spectacular kills of the engagement was made when two twin-engine Jap bombers were shot down off the cruiser's starboard beam.
The Japs made their most determined bid on the third day, when a large formation of planes was reported headed for the task force. Patiently the men of this ship waited at their battle stations for the attack that never came. Several hours later American planes, sent out to intercept the enemy reported that enemy bombers and 12 fighters had been shot down and that the attack had been routed. This report called for a celebration by all hands and a big dish of walnut ice cream for dinner that night.
The cruiser and her entire complement came through without a scratch.

WARREN SOLDIER IS BLOOD DONOR
Pfc. James G. Waples, son of Mrs. Anna Waples, 304 Pennsylvania avenue, east, was one of thousands of Air Technical Service Command soldiers in France who donated blood to help fellow GIs fighting at the front a few miles away. When the urgent need for blood was announced, the steps and hallways of the hospital were soon crowded and before nightfall the hard-pressed medics had planes loaded with 1,000 pints of whole blood for immediate transfusions. Pfc. Waples, formerly employed as a pipeline worker for the National Transit Company, has followed U. S. combat planes through two countries, with the task of helping to keep thousands of them in the air.

Glimpse Of Germany In Letter Home

Lawrence T. Orner, principal of the Lander school, has received an interesting letter from his son, Bill, dated April 20 from somewhere in Germany. It reads: "I've had lots of time to think lately, but either no facilities or no time and light to write."
"We're on double daylight saving time and with it it is dark only during the time that we should be sleeping. It doesn't get dark until well after nine o'clock and we get up at 6:30, 4:30 sunrise."
"I guess it is spring now everywhere in the world—at least everywhere I have been since the first of March—flowers and blossoms everywhere, and sunny weather."
"Just now I'm living in a large school building. It was a mission house, or what we call a seminary. It is pretty well battered up, but it has many rooms with good floors and walls, and we use the few rooms that have the walls blown out with artillery fire as a place to put all the plaster and junk from the other rooms. It is the best place in the area for troops to be sheltered, however. Whole towns and large cities are completely leveled. London looks bad. Dad, even after a couple of years to clean it up. But this place, these towns I've been through in Germany, absolutely, completely leveled—every house being turned into a pile of rubble, with hardly a sign of a wall left, and every last house is that way."
"So you see the place I am sheltered in is pretty good, even though all the doors are off and all the windows out. I got a good night's sleep even though I climb four flights of stairs to my 'suite.'"

Commander Is Close To Jap Mainland

A delayed dispatch from aboard a U. S. high cruiser off Okinawa reports that Cmdr. E. Gail Hamilton, USNR, of 508 Market street, saw duty in the very shadow of the Japanese homeland in recent weeks as the U. S. Navy carried the war into Japan's front yard.
As a prelude to the Okinawa operation, this ship and her crew spent four days close by the Jap mainland as a part of a task force which sent wave after wave of carrier-based planes against Kyushu and Honshu Islands.

T-5 Okerwal Diesel Tests In Iran Unit

From Ahwaz, Iran, comes a report that maintenance of electric appliances on approximately 100 diesel locomotives has been the job for the past two years of a group of U. S. Army soldiers right in the heart of the Khuzistan desert.
Three men operate the "water box", a device that determines under simulated conditions, to load a diesel engine is capable of hauling, and one member of the trio is T-5 Walter A. Okerwal, 20 Van Ertan avenue, Sheffield.
It has been the skill of the men, in part, that has kept the American-built 1,000 horsepower engines in service on the Iranian State Railway and enabled the Third Military Railroad Service, the Persian Gulf Command to haul the bulk of more than 5,000,000 tons of war material used by the armies in the USSR in their offensives from Stalingrad to Berlin.
In addition to inspection of the diesels after each run, there are annual inspections when traction motors, generators, armatures and other parts are removed, inspected and repaired. The group operates and maintains the ISR's power house, with its American, Swedish and German-built equipment; plus all shop maintenance of an electrical nature.

OVER THREE YEARS

Sgt. William R. Neilly is spending a short leave with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Neilly, 24 Buchanan street. Member of a B-29 crew, he has been stationed in the Marianas and will report to California for intensive training before returning to the Pacific theatre. His brother, Sgt. Virgil E. Neilly, leaves Thursday for Fort Dix, N. J., where he expects to receive his discharge from the army, having well over 10 years of service. This is the first time the brothers have met in over three years.

Sgt. Beach Is Awarded Fifth Battle Star

Four times previously awarded battle participation credit for Troop Carrier sorties on the western front in Europe, Sgt. James C. Beach, of Warren, has been authorized his fifth bronze battle star, significant of service in five major campaigns in the European Theatre of operations.
Climaxing his previous aerial operations, Sgt. Beach's unit, the 437th Troop Carrier Group, made history in the Rhine airborne assault at Wesel, Germany, by being the first Troop Carrier unit to fly a double glider tow formation into combat. The 437th had performed trooped carrier missions in the areas of Normandy, southern France, Rome-Arno, northern France and Germany, and was cited for its performance on Normandy D-Day. It has dropped freight totaling approximately 26,266,828 pounds, transported airborne combat personnel figuring about 13,500, and has evacuated by air some D-Day thousands of casualties.
Sgt. Beach's wife, Doreen, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Beach, live at 420 1/2 Poplar street. An airplane mechanic in the engineering department of his squadron, he was graduated from Warren High School and prior to his entry into service in August, 1941, was a welder for the Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Company.

GOES TO NORFOLK

Albert E. Hoffman, aviation mechanic's mate, second class USNR, has left for Norfolk, Va., and further assignment to duty after a leave spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoffman, Warren RD 3, and other relatives. He has only recently returned home after a tour of duty in the European Theatre of Operations. Serving as a turret gunner and searchlight operator on a combat patrol aboard a Liberator search plane, he was a member of one of the navy's air crews which combed the shipping lanes on the western approaches of Europe in search of German submarines. His squadron was based in the United Kingdom. Graduate of Warren High School, he entered the navy in August, 1942.

BACK IN STATES

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Allen, of Wrightsville, have received word that their son, Pvt. William Allen, is now hospitalized in West Virginia. Previous to this time he has been in a hospital in England.
Sgt. Betty Jane Branch, WAC, stationed in Orlando, Florida, is expected over the weekend to spend a furlough with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Branch, East Third avenue.
Cadet Walter E. Sigworth has just had a short furlough visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sigworth, now living at Lane downe, and will report back to Sheppard Field, Texas, to remain there until his class is sent to pre-flight school.

Chapter 34
SUDDENLY Christopher leaned back in his chair—and relaxed completely. Everything was going all right! The evidence so far was being built up around Rizzo. That was all he cared about. He'd never seen Rizzo—Donohue was bringing him in and the whole rotten mess would be cleared up very soon. His secretary tip-toed in and brought a telegram she laid on his desk.
Then the door of the secretary's office opened again and an officer motioned to the headquarters man that he wanted to speak to Christopher. Christopher heard him say, "Donohue is here—he wants to see you."
As the two men disappeared, Christopher leaned across his desk and said to Brenda in a voice that was almost cheerful, "Mrs. Blair, are you the girl who threw our good money into that clothes hamper?"
Brenda looked at him, her wide grey eyes darkening into a smile that lighted her entire face. He realized she had not smiled at him in just that way for days, and he answered her smile with a quick reach for happiness such as he had never known before. Certainly queer and totally unexpected things were happening to him today!
"I certainly am. I threw that dirty bundle of old newspaper in the laundry basket and never gave it a second thought. Tom was always bringing in bundles like that from his days on the beach."
BEFORE Christopher could answer the door of his secretary's office swung back against the wall and this time it seemed to have a decisive motion of its own—as if it were ushering in an event of major importance. Brenda and Christopher leaned forward, staring with unbelieving eyes at the group emerging from the doorway.
Donohue came first. Behind him a stout man walked slowly between two detectives. The prison-

(By Joe Gardner)

A great amount of interest has been aroused in the coming organization meeting of the Old-Timers' Baseball Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania, to be held at the YMCA next Saturday, May 19, at 7:30 p. m. Many old-timers have stated their intention to be present. Cards have been sent out to all the old ballplayers we could get addresses for, but many will not receive cards due to lack of correct information of their whereabouts, so it behooves those of us who do know about the meeting to pass along the word orally so that no old-timers will be missed.

The purpose of this organization is to foster sports, particularly baseball; to help organize city and county leagues; to go out and get backing and sponsors for proposed leagues; to perpetuate sports in the American tradition within our section of the state; and last, to hold open the door by which returning servicemen can re-enter sports quickly after their homecoming, thus helping in the rehabilitation of those who have put their all on the line for us stay-at-homes.

This group, if organized, will in time become part of the state-wide organization and will hold regular meetings, a yearly picnic and old-timer games of the type seen last year at the State Hospital, where much good was done for Warren county's crippled kiddies.

The Tasty Bakery, by dint of extreme good luck, plus intestinal fortitude, managed to win out in the Elks annual bowling feud and is crowned (?) champ for the season. However, there are a few pertinent questions that must be answered by the bakery boys before the rest of the league is wholly satisfied as to their superiority. Let's let that go until next season, what say, boys?

Card's Star Hurler, Morton Cooper, Walks Out; Brooklyn Cops 11th Straight Win, 3-1

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

All was chaos in the camp of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals today after a third chapter of the Cooper rebellion and a double loss in Boston had dropped them eight full games behind the National League leading New York Giants.

The latest Cooper walkout was immediately reflected in the standings as Pitcher Mort had been scheduled to work the opener against the Braves yesterday afternoon. But Eversly got the nod when Billy Southworth learned his star righthander was homeward bound and the Braves won in 14 innings, 5-4.

Cooper's departure was variously attributed to sickness in the family and salary trouble but the consensus was that Owner Sam Breadon's checkbook could put down the uprising in nothing flat.

Marty Marion, recovering from an injury, managed to play one game against the Braves and Rookie Jack Creel showed amazing stuff in holding Boston to one hit in 7 1/3 relief innings after Al Jurisich had been knocked out in the first frame of the nightcap. Those were on the credit side but the record of six defeats in eight eastern games and fifth place in the standings were definitely embarrassing to the champs.

Phil Masi's double followed by Dick Cullen's single against relief pitcher Blix Donnelly copped for Boston in the 14th of the first game after a three-run spurt in the ninth had tied it up.

Bob Logan, a 35-year-old southpaw recently purchased from Indianapolis, made his Boston debut and scattered eight Card hits for a 4-1 successful inaugural in the second.

Brooklyn meanwhile was still burning up the league on an 11-game victory streak and the Giants were continuing to pummel the daylight out of the "strong" western invaders.

Hal Gregg tossed a five-hitter at Pittsburgh's juggled lineup to give the Dodgers No. 11 by a 3-1 margin over Al Gerheuser. In earning his fifth decision, Gregg was the seventh successive Brooklyn hurler to go the route.

Bill Voiselle became the "winningest" pitcher in the big time with his seventh straight triumph and second shutout, beating Chicago, 6-0. A night game turnout of 30,763 thrilled to a 14-blow Giant attack including seventh homers for Mel Ott and Phil Weintraub and a sixth for Ernie Lombardi.

bardi, all in the sixth inning off Hank Wyse.

The Phillies snapped out of it long enough to hand Ed Heusser his first setback, 6-2, with Dick Barrett scattering seven Cincinnati safeties.

For the third day in a row, all games in the American League were washed or frozen into mid-summer doubleheaders.

Felix (Doc) Blanchard's next appearance will be in IC-4-A Championships at West Point, May 19. Army's great fullback, all six feet and 215 pounds of him, sprints and puts shot, won 100-yard dash in quadrangle meet in 10.3.

Behind the Lines

Several weeks ago, this column made an appeal on behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for used or old golf balls and baseball equipment. The golf balls were to be used by wounded overseas soldiers now recuperating in the states, and the baseball equipment was to be used by players at the Bull Hill P-W camp.

In last night's edition of the T-M, a letter to the editor from a VFW member was printed, which stated that, as to date, not one bit of equipment has been received.

It's about time that the folks back home realized just who has been doing the fighting overseas, and just what those boys have gone through. It's also about time that the people back home started thinking a little bit about those boys who are undergoing treatment in army hospitals for away from home and are very much in need of recreational facilities to hurry their complete recovery.

The game of golf is of the utmost importance to them and to their recovery. So, once again, we ask you to look around the house for golf balls, old or new, and any baseball equipment. These contributions should be made to the Dinsmore-Schwung Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This is the second of a series in "Know Your Team," short articles concerning the players on the National Forge baseball team, which opens its season at the State Hospital tonight and initiates Wilder Field formally Sunday.

Richard Giegerich, Age 28; has been employed at the Forge for more than seven years; plays both infield and outfield and has had five years playing experience before playing for the NFO. Outstanding event in his diamond career was, "NFO vs. Tidoute, 11th inning, score tied, Tidoute had three men on base, and nobody out. I caught a line drive, touched second base, and then made a throw to first base, completing a triple play."

Andy Natale, Age 29; has been employed at the NFO for four years; plays both infield and outfield; has had eight years playing experience before starting with the locals. Outstanding event in his baseball career was, "NFO vs. Buffalo Colored Giants, I came to bat with the bases full and hit a two-bagger, cleaning the bases."

Lyle Freeborough, Age 33, has been employed at NFO for eight years, has had four years playing experience before entering the fold at Irvine.

Nicholas Creola, Age 35, has been employed at Irvine for five years; had 10 years playing experience before starting with the NFO.

When baseball's newly-appointed commissioner stated that he was making extensive plans for equipping sandlot baseball parks in order to create a "flood" of youngsters trekking to the diamond, the thought came that he couldn't do much in Warren, since the older teams are forced to play in the sandlots, excepting the Forge crew. If Warren wants a park, then a movement better be started soon.

Most of the sound waves resulting from the firing of big guns are of such low pitch that they cannot be distinguished as tones by the human ear.

Four Eligibles In Pimlico Turf Race

By JOHN F. CHANDLER

Baltimore, May 17.—(P)—Four Kentucky-bred boys and Preakness eligibles whose performance might indicate their possibilities in the three-year-old classics were entered today in the $5,000 Rennett, feature attraction at Pimlico.

They are Bobanet, from Bobanet Stables; Pentagon Stables' The Doge; Christiansa Stables' Alexis; and Brookfield, from Harry Isaac's and Brookfield Farms. All excepting Brookfield, winner in five of 11 starts last year, captured important 1944 stakes or feature races.

Alexis was second to Pavot, the undefeated 1944 juvenile champion, in the Futurity at Belmont, and won the William Penn Stakes at Garden State Park. Pavot's trainer says he won't be ready for the Derby, but is being pointed for the Preakness here June 16.

Bobanet's best money effort was a $25,100 jackpot in the Walt Whitman stakes at Garden State, and he also took the Eastern Shore Handicap at Laurel, the only two stakes he entered last year. The Doge ran second to Bobanet.

Jack Barry Today

Jack Barry, above, shortstop of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield of 30-odd years ago, launched his 25th season as Holy Cross coach by seeing 18-year-old southpaw freshman Jack Tivnan pitch a no-hit, no-run game repelling Charlestown, R. I. Naval Air Base, 7-0.

Young Seabiscuits in Sire's Hoofprints

Five 2-year-old progeny of Seabiscuit romp in early-morning workout at Santa Anita, scene of many of their sire's triumphs. It was over the southern California strip that son of Hard Tack closed his racing career, March 2, 1940, bagging $100,000 handicap in track record time of 2:01 1/5 to become world money-winning champion.

STOCKYARDS AREA IN PITTSBURGH HAS FIRE

Pittsburgh, May 17—(P)—Fire destroyed a three-story brick building and threatened other structures in the Herr's Island Stockyards area last night, causing damage unofficially estimated at $100,000.

Seven alarms were sounded before the flames, fed by tons of fats and greases stored in the Pittsburgh Melting Company's rendering plant, were brought under control.

A heavy downpour of rain seemed to have little effect upon the blazing building but helped prevent spread of the flames. Frequent explosions constantly endangered firemen who fought the blaze three hours.

Why Okinawa Gains Are Measured in Yards

You don't measure gains on Okinawa in miles; you get down to bitterly-contested yards, feet and inches. Reason is the intricate system of pillboxes and caves set up on every ridge in the southern section of the island. Fanatical Japs, holding out to the last man, must be exterminated as shown above, where soldiers of the U. S. Tenth Army's 27th Division stand outside a pillbox with rifles ready. One of them prepares to toss in another grenade, after previous blast had blown out the Japs whose bodies lie before entrance to tomb used as pillbox.

Woman Killed By Pit Fighting Dogs

Miami, Fla., May 17—(P)—Manslaughter charges were filed today against Joe Munn of Hialeah, of a pack of dogs trained for pit fighting, following the death of a 39-year-old woman attacked by the animals last night.

Constable W. M. Hudson and Magistrate H. L. Oppenborn signed the manslaughter charge.

The victim, Mrs. Doretta Zinke, ethnologist, lecturer and war worker, died within an hour and a half after police said she was attacked by nine bulldogs.

Constable Hudson said Munn's dogs had been trained for pit fighting but that he denied they had been fought in the Miami area. The dogs were being held by the humane society today pending a decision on their future.

Nazi Prisoners Being Used In Redeploying Yank Forces And Equipment To Pacific

(From Page One) A dispatch from the U. S. Third army in southern Germany said an anti-Russian resistance movement may have been nipped in the bud with the arrest of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, who had been chief of the Nazi secret service since the assassination of "the hangman," Reinhard Heydrich, in 1942.

The dispatch said that Kaltenbrunner was known to have admitted he planned "some sort" of action against the Russians.

The status of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz and his "Flensburg group" has been defined. Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Gen. Eisenhower's deputy for the occupation of Germany, announced that Doenitz was considered a prisoner of war. A Supreme Allied Headquarters statement said there had been no thought of recognizing Doenitz and the group of German officers surrounding him as a German government.

Marshal Tito has suggested to the U. S. government that Yugoslav troops be allowed to remain in their present position in the occupation of Austria and Carinthia, but be placed under the command of Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander.

The United States also had asked the withdrawal of Yugoslav troops from Trieste and adjacent parts of Venezia Giulia—a request to which Tito did not refer.

In Soviet Russia a critical view was taken of the Allied handling of war criminals and the Doenitz group at Flensburg. A writer in the army newspaper Red Star said that "justice in fact is moving with its brakes on."

Commenting on the accomplishments of the Allied War Crimes Commission in London on which Soviet Russia is not a member, the Russian writer said that up to now the commission had compiled seven lists of war criminals.

This took months, he added, and "naturally the question now arises: How much time is going to be required to get these criminals from the lists to the courts?"

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British ambassador to Russia, arrived in London today by air from the World Security Conference in San Francisco. "There were expectations that the two men would consult immediately with Prime Minister Churchill on the Polish dispute."

Enemy Dead On Okinawa Now 46,505

DIES IN FALL

Pittsburgh, May 17—(P)—William T. Davies, was killed today in an 80-foot plunge from the East street bridge to a hillside below, police reported. Davies was a Pennsylvania railroad examining engineer.

Woman Killed By Pit Fighting Dogs

(From Page One) Northwest of Davao, the 24th slowly dug enemy troops out of entrenched positions between the Talomo and Davao rivers. Deep grass permitted the Japanese to steal through Yank lines and guns often were abandoned for knives, bayonets and fists in fierce infighting.

On Luzon, guerrilla forces harassed Japanese garrisons at Tuguegarao and along Highway Four in southern Cagayan valley, but the Doughboys drive down the road from Balete Pass was halted by heavy rains.

East of Manila, two prongs of a powerful 43rd infantry division pinched closed to within 1,000 yards of each other and compressed a strong enemy force near the Ipo dam watershed, source of Manila's water.

The First Cavalry Division pushed up the east coast toward a small, unused Japanese seaplane base south of Infanta.

Dutch troops landed unopposed on the southern tip of Tarakan Island off the Borneo coast and captured some ammunition dumps. Inland on the oil-rich island, Australians cleaned out a strong Japanese position.

Medium attack and fighter bombers pounded enemy positions on north Luzon with 150 tons of bombs while other air units ranged over a wide area from Formosa to French Indo-China, the Dutch East Indies and New Guinea.

EASING OF CIGARETTE SHORTAGE PREDICTED

New York, May 17—(P)—An easing of the cigarette shortage within two or three months is predicted by manufacturers.

By that time shipment of cigarettes to the armed forces in Europe will have been reduced considerably, industry members believed.

Meanwhile, Philip Morris and Co., Ltd., said it would increase allotments of its brands to civilians by 50 per cent beginning June 1.

The National Association of Tobacco Distributors summed up: "The situation will ease during the rest of 1945, but civilians still will have to stand in line."

FOREST FIRE MENACE IN STATE "LICKED"

Harrisburg, May 17—(A)—Pennsylvania's forest fires were "licked to a standstill" this spring and at most only 25,000 acres were burned over in what is usually the worst season of the year, Forest Protector George H. Wirt declared today.

The Forests and Waters Department official estimated that so far there have been 600 to 700 fires in the state this spring during a period when the loss is usually the greatest during the year. Annual losses since 1941 have averaged 60,000 acres through 1200 fires.

"The wet weather and the early season at which leaves came out reduced the hazard," Wirt said.

Nip Aircraft and Arsenal Center In Flames Result Of Mounting Incendiary Raids

(From Page One) "We saw several Jap fighters," said Sgt. George Hancher of Johnstown, Pa., a gunner, "but they just looked us over and slid on by and we didn't get a crack at them." Hancher said another B-29 was about 100 feet above his craft when it began its bombing run.

"For a minute I thought he was going to drop his bombs on us," Hancher continued, "but they passed by a safe margin."

"TRUSTIES" WALK AWAY

Pittsburgh, May 17—(P)—Police reported two "trustees" walked away from the grounds of the Allegheny County Workhouse at Blawnox today. The missing men were identified as Patrick E. Kerns, 23, Washington, Pa., and John I. Honchell, 31, Akron, O.

Washington, May 17—(A)—There'll be some 2,000,000 more books of matches available through tobacco and drug stores this quarter. The War Production Board said the increase results from a March directive that at least two-thirds of civilian output must be of the type usually given away with tobacco products.

LACKAWANNA WORK STOPPAGE IS ENDED

Lackawanna, N. Y., May 17—(P)—About 7,500 employees of Bethlehem Steel Company's Lackawanna plant returned to work today after a five-day work stoppage which virtually halted production of war-vital steel.

Members of the CIO United Steelworkers voted last night at a four-hour meeting to end the stoppage after the Regional War Labor Board had ordered them back to work. The vote was 692 to 308 with 17 ballots void. More than 2,000 employees attended the meeting.

Plant officials said it will take a week to 10 days before capacity production is resumed. They said more than 30,000 tons of steel ingots and 15,000 tons of iron were lost as a result of the walkout.

2,000,000 Engaged in Scout Activities To Aid Bond Drive

The cooperation of nearly 2,000,000 members of 57,000 Troops and Packs of the Boy Scouts of America to work "wholeheartedly with War Finance Committees" during the 7th War Loan was pledged by Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout Executive, in an exchange of letters revealed at National Scout Headquarters in New York.

Dr. Fretwell's response was to a message from Ted R. Gamble, National Director of the War Finance Division of the Treasury Department. Mr. Gamble, praising the major role of Boy Scouts in the six war loan drives, emphasized that this year the Treasury is faced with the problem of raising almost as much money from individuals in two campaigns as in three held in 1944.

The texts of the letter from Mr. Gamble to Dr. Fretwell and the latter's reply follows:

Dear Dr. Fretwell:

The Scouts have been active in the last six War Loans. Again we ask your cooperation in the Seventh, which will run from May 14 to June 30.

This year there will be only two War Loan drives but in these two drives the Treasury will have to raise almost as much money from individuals as in the three drives last year. This means the biggest of all loans as far as sales to individuals are concerned. I am sure we can count on the Boy Scouts of America and Scout families to do their part.

Let me wish continued success to your Scouts-at-War-Minute Man program which carries on for the duration. Among all the wartime home front activities the Scouts are doing, this is a most worthwhile campaign. Let's keep the Scouts-at-War-Flag flying right beneath "Old Glory".

Sincerely yours,
Ted R. Gamble.

Dr. Fretwell's Reply

Dear Mr. Gamble:

The Boy Scouts of America accept the challenge of your expressed confidence in the part to be played by them the Seventh War Loan. The membership of our 57,000 Troops and Packs will be asked to cooperate in the Seventh War Loan as in the first six.

To do this every Troop and Pack will be urged to earn the right to fly the Scouts-at-War-Minute Man flag beneath "Old Glory" and those who are already flying the flag, to continue to meet the conditions necessary to keep it flying. This right to be earned through the regular purchase of war bonds and stamps by 90 per cent of the Troop membership and also through the securing of commitments from a number of individuals equal to 90 per cent of the Troop membership to buy either regularly or to purchase an extra bond in the Seventh War Loan.

The observance of this will be built around Flag Day, June 14. On that day, Troops will dedicate their flags or, if they have already earned the Scouts-at-War-Minute Man flag, they will rededicate it.

In addition, we shall again request local Scouts and Scouters to cooperate wholeheartedly with War Finance Committees where their help is requested.

Very sincerely yours,
Elbert K. Fretwell.

"How to Get to Heaven..."*

During the forty-nine years of our mercantile life, great changes have taken place in American retailing. In 1896, all merchants, like Metzger-Wright's, were independent; usually one-unit establishments. Each co-existed with the other retailers of his community. Competition was usually a simple matter in which everyone had about the same chance, and the decisive element was the native intelligence and adaptability of the individual.

The growth of chain retailing has paralleled the increasing gigantism and centralization of industrial America. The small-town independent store no longer competes with his equals. He competes with organizations whose crushing power and resources are many thousand times his own. He is like David confronting Goliath with a slingshot. He has seen many of his friendly competitors of other days ground into dust by these crunching millstones.

It has been said that the Nickel-and-Dime Store is the hallmark of American civilization. There is no doubt that the standardization and cheapening processes which are the bread and butter of chain operations have done much to lower the quality standards of the buying public. Nevertheless, it is clearly evident that all America cannot be supplied out of the bins of the variety stores.

The fact that the Metzger-Wright Co. has survived and progressed in the teeth of this mighty juggernaut is proof that the individual merchant has something to offer that chainized retailing has not, perhaps that he also has certain competitive advantages. What are these things? First, he can offer individualized merchandise. Second, he need not cheapen his product to jam it down to a price. Third, he can offer individual, friendly attention; not robot salesmanship. Fourth, he can make quicker decisions. Fifth, he can put those decisions into action without having to wait until they are okayed by sixteen executives and subexecutives twenty states away. Sixth, his salesforce is usually superior because most people prefer to work in an independent store.

Finally, and most important of all, the individual store offers continuity of policy and personality which the chain stores, with their ever-changing management, do not supply. It stands for something distinct, continuous, and knowable.

They raised the Flag again on Corregidor...

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on two Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars.

The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!
